Personal Statement

Like most of those running for the Board, I've devoted many years of my life to this club in its various forms, and it represents one of the most important social groups and creative outlets that sit at the core of my self-identity. The opportunities a club like this offers to its members to continue to grow as imaginative, cooperative, open-minded people who have friends across the globe is remarkable. The foundation of this ability lies with the Board of Directors.

The BoD may not take a direct hand in managing the club's functions, but the foundation established by the Board, the support they give the officers of the club, the funding they manage to hold conventions and host the sites, servers and lists we use to connect to one another, and the work they do to manage the club's association with our sister clubs and the owners of White Wolf's IP that we use to build our games are all what allows the Mind's Eye Society to exist. The Handbook and other club documents that they oversee establish our core values. And finally, the hardest decisions about what can and can't be allowed stop at their door.

To serve on the Board of the Directors is to accept the most responsibility in order to have a chance to grow the club day by day into a place where many more of us will find our best friends and tell our great stories. It would be an honor to take on that role.
